A Step In...

We stepped out of the safety of our homes and into the unknown world of college. As pebbles, rolling along the river, some of us fall out of the water, but most of us find a place among the other stones, moving together, making friends and creating memories that will last a lifetime. As seniors, we reach the time where we must take a step up and out into a new life in a new world, taking with us those memories and friendships and leaving behind a little piece of ourselves. These years are the Stepping Stones we all use and all build upon to help each other take a step in the right direction...

STEPPING OUT

Stepping Out is what makes Etown what it is today. College is a time for growing and learning, but there is more to an education than a classroom.

In the 1992-93 school year, Etown had the traditional special events which included Convocation, Parent's Weekend, Homecoming, two plays, the Spring Arts Festival, TGIS, the Jr-Sr Formal and graduation.

The school year also saw some not so traditional events such as the Winter Wonderland dance, the student protest and the blizzard of the century.

Each event held its own meaning for each individual, but as a whole, the events of the year gave Etown students a chance for something different, a chance for Stepping Out.

CONVOCATION

To the right: The audience rises as Dr. Gliptis, Dr. Evans and Dr. Poole exit the convocation ceremony. Convocation was held in early September.

Below: Each year Convocation is held to mark the beginning of the new academic year. This year Dr. Maurice Boyd captivated the audience with a few words during the ceremony.

A HIGH HONOR

The college Convocation was held on September 9, 1992, in the midway. Reverend Dr. R. Maurice Boyd served as the Keynote speaker with his address entitled "A Lovely Ambition".

The recognition of College Scholars preceeded Reverend Boyd's address. Seventeen juniors and twenty seniors were honored for their academic achievements. College Scholars are students who have successfully completed at least 60 credit hours at the college and have maintained a cumulative grade point average of 3.75 or higher. Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held in the sundial area of the midway.

To the right: Since the establishment of the college, Convocation has been held at the start of every school year. For the 1992 ceremony, Dr. Ranck leads the procession of faculty carrying the torch.

HOMECOMING

Singing voices resounded throughout campus during Homecoming as this musical quartet enriched the day.

To the right: Among the entertainment at midway were the clowns giving out yo yo's, DJ's from WWEC playing musical selections and students swallowing fish at the sushi bar. Not!!!

Natalie Eshelman is escorted around the field in style. She represented the sophomore class on the Homecoming Court.

From churros to cotton candy, midway offered a wide variety of snacks. Here two brave souls conquere a deep fryer filled with french fries.

THE 1992 HOMECOMING COURT

At half-time of the victorious soccer game, the Homecoming Court was presented to the crowd of people, cheering and clapping. Members included:
Freshmen-- Holly Benner and Tim McHarness;
Sophomores-- Natalie Eshelman and Creighton Faust;
Seniors-- Deirdre Hendrie, Tracy Raine, Andrea Thornton, Erik Hess, Ravi Patel, and Pete Rath.
Finally, the moment arrived and, with the tension and excitement mounting, seniors Tracy Raine and Erik Hess were crowned queen and king.

So far so good, but how much longer could Andy Sagar's luck last?

ACTIVITIES ABOUND

The day might have dawned chilly and a bit bleak, but the weather did little to dampen the spirits of Elizabethtown College students and alumni this October 17, Homecoming 1992.

Crowds of people braved the elements to stroll the midway, checking out the various booths sponsored by school clubs, organizations, and local artisans. Clowns greeted the children who waited to jump into the Sea of Balls, and Blue Jay calls were heard as our mascot flitted about, sparking excitement for the afternoon's soccer game. Meanwhile, students took the opportunity to plaster professors and fellow students with cream pies and water balloons. Participants in the inter-class tug-of-war worked up quite an appetite, which could be satisfied by the assortment of refreshment stands lining the midway. The weekend was enjoyable for all.

The Crucible and Much Ado About Nothing

Each year, Etown produces two shows for audiences to enjoy. In the fall of 1992, cast and crew members worked hard on The Crucible. The play was not only entertaining, but educational as well, dealing with the witch trials in Salem, Massachussettes.

In the spring of 1993, auditions were held and a new cast and crew were chosen for William Shakespeare's, Much Ado About Nothing. It was the first time in many years that a Shakespearean play was performed at Elizabethtown. The comedy revolved around two different couples destined to be together, with many humorous problems occuring in the process. With a revolving stage and great performances, the play was very successful.

Art Appreciation

Every spring at Etown, the students, faculty and community pull together to show their appreciation and love of the arts. The 1993 festival included many performances and activities for people of all ages to enjoy.

Among the performances were interesting and beautiful poetry readings by both students and faculty, creative dances coordinated by Judy Williams Henry and great music played by the jazz band.

The hidden talents and creativity of the sudents and faculty had a chance to show through in all forms of art, making the 1993 Spring Arts Festival at Etown a great success.

Spring is in the Air

Every spring you can count on the flowers blooming, the birds singing and Etown celebrating it all with the annual TGIS weekend.

It all started Friday night when students crowded the floor of Hershey Hall for the video dance. Saturday, students participated in the sand volleyball tournament. While some students chose to golf throughout Etown, others got dressed up and headed to Thompson Gym for a truly Hawaiin dinner. Students, surrounded by grass huts and a waterfall, feasted in the gym where later that night a laser light show and dance were held.

On Sunday, there were plenty of Luau games at the midway where a band played for those students participating or just sitting in the sun on the gorgeous spring day.

Protest

Coinciding with the dedication of the new BSC Annex, a group of students staged a peaceful demonstration demanding better communication between the administration and the student body. The purpose of the protest was to make the Board of Trustees aware that the students are concerned about how Etown's funds are allocated.

Getting up early Saturday morning, about 100 to 150 protesters, many bearing signs, gathered on the steps of the High Library. They then moved from the High Library to the new BSC Annex, where they protested inside and outside of the building.

Two of the major concerns discussed were the rennovations to the president's house and the planned construction of a chapel on campus.

The protest was organized by the Student Senate and many feel that it was a success. This was the first stepping stone towards better communications between the administration and the sudent body.

Dinner-Dance

Upperclassmen gathered at the Penn Harris Hotel and Convention Center in Camp Hill on April 3, 1993, for the annual Junior/ Senior Dinner Dance.

The Junior class, which sponsors the event, made this year's formal uniquely Elizabethtown. . . from the students who greeted those attending the dance at the door to the student DJ who provided the music that kept the students celebrating through the night.

The Junior Class' s careful planning combined with the Penn Harris's cooperation created an enjoyable evening for all who attended.

The 1993 Junior/Senior Formal went well for both the hotel and the college. From the appetizers to breakfast the next morning, students danced the night away.

Senior Worship Service

A Time to Remember

With standing room only, the Brethren church hosted the annual senior worship service which is run entirely by the senior class. Many seniors participated in this event by singing, playing an instrument or speaking.

The event gave the seniors and their families a chance to pray together, sing together and remember together one last time before graduation.

Stories, prayers and humor by the seniors and Dr. Eugene Clemens, who was asked to speak at the service, were combined to create an inspirational and touching atmosphere for all who attended.

Graduation

The sun was shining, beach balls were flying, bubbles were floating and health care was being discussed. Saturday, May 22, 1993, thousands of people gathered in the dell to witness or participate in one of the most important events of a college student's life-- graduation.

Provost Ritsch filled in as the master of ceremonies, presenting the graduates with the long awaited diploma covers which would hold the diplomas that could be picked up after the ceremony.

With some controversy within the student body, Senator Harris Wofford spoke to the graduating class, mostly addressing health care issues.

Pictures were taken, tears of happiness, relief and sadness were shed and memories were shared by the class of '93.

Graduation day stands as a stepping stone for all the seniors to use to step up and out into a challenging new world.

STEP TO IT

GET INVOLVED . . . there are plenty of opportunities for students and falculty to become involved with the campus community. Outside academics and sports, Etown has various organizations open for student membership. These next few pages give a glimpse of the club action on campus.

Starting off with clubs established by individual academic departments, students can become involved with activities associated with their majors or interests.

Campus communications allows students to write, broadcast, announce and inform the Etown community. In order to recognize outstanding students in academics, Etown has organized several honors clubs.

Some clubs take action in following the college's motto, "educate for service." These service organizations help the local, national and even international world. Politically there are clubs and councils in which students can voice there opinions and information in the college and national system.

The opportunities for involvement are limitless. There is always room for membership, so step to it!

Step to the Beat

The Band Staff was right in stride this year. They put on the annual Fall Concert in November and formed a small parade band to march in the Elizabethtown Christmas parade.

The members of the Band Staff continued in step with Spring events including their largest event, the Pops Concert in May. Show tunes, marches and big band music is just a taste of what is part of this main event.

Major Step In

The Biology Club boasted seventy members in 1992-93 school year, led by president, Dana Innerst and vice president, Jennifer Hull. The members, from all different majors, looked to get all those interested in biology together outside of the classroom.

In the past, the Biology Club has travelled to the Washington D. C. National Zoo and toured the Hershey Medical Center. Members have also had the unique opportunity to attend lectures given by distinguished scientists.

Step to It

The 1992-93 school year proved to be full of many changes for the Conestogan. Not only were there changes in leadership and computer programs, there were changes in office location and size of the book. No longer does the Conestogan share an office with the Etownian; the office is now located in Royer basement. The book itselfwas reduced in size to cut costs, yet with other necessary changes, covers more.

Thanks to the hard work of the editors and staff, sales were up, communication between the yearbook and students and administration was greatly improved and the Conestogan took its first step towards self-sufficiency.

With all the changes in the 1992-93 school year, the Conestogan definitely took a big step in the right direction.

Building the Future

The honorable Delphi Society added eighteen new members through their highly selective process this year. This club, with the motto, "Always Excel," extended the challenge to its members to excel in scholarship, leadership and service as it always has in the past.

During the fall semster, the Delphi Society sponsored a Wednesday at Ten in Gibble Auditorium. The speaker, Dr. James Hunter, spoke on the subject of Culture Wars. In the spring, the members sponsored the "Delphi Lectures." This program entailed several Etown professors appearing in the residence halls to speak on various topics of interest to the students.

Servicing the Community

Habitat for Humanity was a very active organization in the 1992-93 school year. In the fall, they hosted a table at the midway during Homecomingand they also participated in the Commonwealth Service Corps "City Island Service Day" in Harrisburg. As a service to the borough of Etown, Habitat initiated a major building project.

The highlights of the year were the trip to Miami Springs, FL and the annual auction. In Florida, members helped to rebuild communities destroyed by Hurricane Andrew. The auction helped them to reach their $2,000 goal.

Organizing the Path

The Residence Life Council was able to unite the six residence halls plus the Schreiber Quadrangle this year to host some major events on campus.

In October, the RLC sponsored a banner contest during the week of Homecoming. In December, the RLC held the first annual Winter Wonderland dance. The cost of admission was a can of food which all together were donated to local charities for the holiday season. Another holiday event sponsored by the RLC was the annual hall decorating contest.

RLC also created a strong dialogue between the students and the Residence Life Office, which proved to be very important during this year of expansion and remodeling at Etown.

STEP INTO ACTION

Etown athletes Stepped Into Action in the 1992-93 school year. From the varsity teams to the JV teams to the intramural teams, the year was full of entertainment, challenge, disappointment and triumph.

Each season saw several teams compete in MAC competitions and even some National competitions.

Although each sport had its own uniqueness and stars, they all shared a common bond as part of Etown athletics. With the wisdom and experience of the old and the talent of the new, the sports teams of each year contribute greatly to what Etown is today.

Every athlete, whether he/she is in it for fun, challenge or career has an opportunity at Etown to Step Into Action.

500th Win Achieved!

The 1992 soccer season was full of special moments and highlights. It was a team of eleven graduating seniors producing exceptional plays and creating several unforgettable moments.

Although it wasn't a national championship year, team captians Pete Rath, Eric Smith, and Rick Saulle led the Blue Jays to many victories. The Blue Jays won the Drew Fall Festival by beating CCNY and Drew. The Jays then won the "Blue Jay Classic" by defeating Stevens College and tying Virginia Wesleyan. The team rose to the top, winning the NCAA Division III Mid-Atlantic Regional by beating Gettysburg and Messiah.

The highlight of the season came with the 500th win. Through the years of hard work and dedication of those exceptional players who have come and gone, the 1992 team was able to secure a victory against Scranton and earn a place in soccer history.

Coach Skip Roderick was very proud of his players, and commented, "They had a major impact on E-town's soccer program. They had great success over the past four years, and they're going to be very hard to replace." The Jays ended their season at 18-3-2, finishing for the eighth straight season in the top ten. Their performance proved once again the tradition of excellence that lives on in E-town soccer.

This year, more has passed than just the 1992 Lady Jays soccer season. The graduation of six special players brings the time to pass the torch of leadership. Coaches James Jones and Ed Bastista know it will be dificult to fill the spots of seniors Amy Hyde, Laurie Kasper, Kathy Hensinger, Lisa Boden, Danni DiMarco, and Terri Schultz.

The Lady Jays finished their season with a winning record of 11-8 despite four early frustrating losses to New Jersey teams. The coaches emphasize the importance of playing teams that will challenge their players, and praise the girls for rallying from close defeats to claim victories.

The Lady Jays' squad has a strong lineup of underclassmen waiting to fill the spots being vacated and with the experience of the old and the willingness of the new, the Lady Blue Jays have a solid winning future ahead of them.

Dribble, Drive, Score!

Even though they had a talented group of women, the 1992 Varsity Field Hockey team suffered a somewhat frustrating season. The endless hours of practice, hard work and determination were not enough to advance the Lady Jays to the MAC playoffs. They missed their MAC goal by only one seed; however they did finish third in the MAC Southeast section. Any fan will attest that their overall record of 3-11-3 does not do them justice.

Coach Kauffman, along with senior tri-captians Sabrina Johnson, Tish Maclay and Faye Betsker provided leadership throughout the season. Team effort paid off when Etown defeated Swarthmore, Albright and Wilkes. Although Etown posted only three wins, these victories were impressive shutouts.

A major highlight during the season occurred in the last game of the season when the Lady Jays beat regionally ranked Wilkes by a score of 5-0, which ended the season very positively. Sabrina Johnson was selected as the team's MVP, and was also the top scorer of the season. For their outstanding ability and dedication, Johnson and Betsker were named to the MAC All-Star team. Withthe loss of eight graduating seniors, the 1993 season will be a time for rebuilding and change.

The JV squad posted an overall record of 2-4-3. Like the varsity team, the JV team exhibited great determination and nonstop effort. This group will play an important role in the future of Etown's field hockey program.

The Jays break from the pack in search of a first place finish.

With the loss of six of eight top runners to graduation, the men's cross country team expected a season of rebuilding. And although their overall record of 6 - 7 may reflect that, Coach Dale Luy saw a lot of strength in this year's team. Senior captain Matt Simmons, the team's only veteran, provided the necessary leadership for the season. According to Coach Luy, Simmons was a true unsung hero. The Jays were also aided by the efforts of number one runner Fidel Femu. Femu added some first place finishes to the team's statistics as well as depth and dedication.

The Lady Jays chalkedup their sixth consecutive winning season this year with a record of 7-5. A narrow 28-27 win over Albright served as a season high point. Leading the Lady Jays this year was senior captian Michelle Steely. Steely broke the school record this year for most runners defeated in a single season. Her dedication and leadership will be missed.

With a good percentage of the women's squad returning, and with Femu leading the men's squad, the teams look forward to a great 1993 season.

Set It, Bump It, Spike It.

The word "expectations" best fits the 1992 Lady Jays Volleyball team. With the majority of the team returning from the last season, expectations were high, but as time wore on, 1992 became more of a learning season.

Closing out their season with a 20-19 record, the Lady Jays fulfilled many expectations. They finished with an impressive second place in the MAC Northwestern Division with a record of 4-1 and received a bid for the Middle Atlantic Conference playoffs. Unfortunately, the Lady Jays lost to Ursula College in the first round of post-season play. Throughout the season, the Jays were a force to be reckoned with, and through their wins and losses, the team learned a lot.

Although entering into a new conference next season brings with it many uncertainties, there are a few things to which Coach Pam Drazkowski and the volleyball team look forward. They are certain they will remain a solid force in college volleyball. The Lady Jays will lose no one to graduation and the team is expected to combine experience with new talent to continue the tradition at Elizabethtown College.

Taking 'em Down

Coach Ober gets his 300th career victory and senior Mike Ahern breaks the college's win record...these were two of the many special moments in a season that started with no one knowing what to expect. The old members came together with the new and Etown wrestling made a lasting first impresion when they easily defeated Johns Hopkins University in the first match of the season. However, the season took a twist, and the wrestlers were faced with injury and disappointment.

The absence of a full roster only made the remaining wrestlers work harder. The sweat and dedication paid off. The Jays ended their regular season with 10 wins, 9 losses, and 2 ties with four men placing in the MAC championships. The Blue Jay grapplers proved many words described their season: take down, pin, pride, victory--and most of all, teamwork and dedication.

Pins are usually hard to come by, but not for the Etown wrestlers. The team had 35 total pins for the season.

Shooting for the Top

The 1992-93 Lady Jays made many strides this season. Although they did not go as far as they would have liked and their record may not have shown it, they gained great experience from playing better teams. "We had two big losses that really hurt us, but once we got past them, things started to look up," says a proud Coach Kauffman.

Obviously, things did start to look up. Beginning with the mid-season game against Albright, the Lady Jays took off on a winning streak; out of the remaining thirteen games, the team lost only two, and in those two games, the Lady Jays lost by only a few points. There was another highpoint near the end of the season; two of the senior captains, Marci Grossman and Ruth Wotman, reached the 1000 point mark.

With the combination of those two seniors and the remainder of the team, the Lady Jays made it to the MAC playoffs, going up against Scranton. Unfortunately, they came up short, losing 102-73. They ended their season with a winning record of 19 wins and 9 losses.

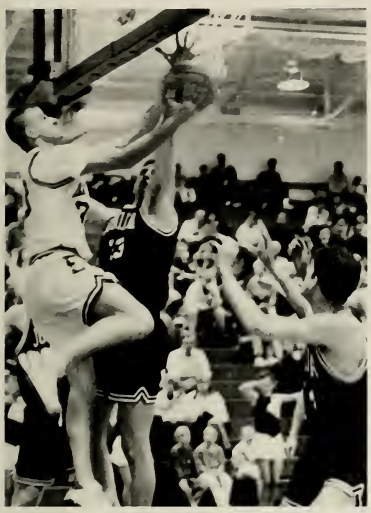
Courting Victory

Harlem Globe Trotters look out . . . here comes Harold Crush with his behind the basket shot.



The 1992-93 men's basketball team found new success this year which sent them to the NCAA tournament. The determination and hard work brought the men's team to a new level of play and to a season record of 19 wins and 6 losses. This is the second best record since the 1963-64 season Etown had 20 wins and only 5 losses.

Coach Schlosser commented that the team had the "potential of having a good year, but the team did better than anticipated." At one point during the season, they won 13 out of 15 games and finally lost to number 1 ranked Scranton in the semifinal round of the MAC championships. Under tri-captains Dave Karli, Ron Urich and Tom Kuffa, the men's team advanced to the NCAA tournament. Both Tom Kuffa and Ron Urich reached the 1000 point career mark during the 1993 season, and Coach Schlosser was named coach of the year in the MAC Northwest division.

Coach Schlosser hopes this is the "start of many appearances for the men's team in the NCAA tournament."

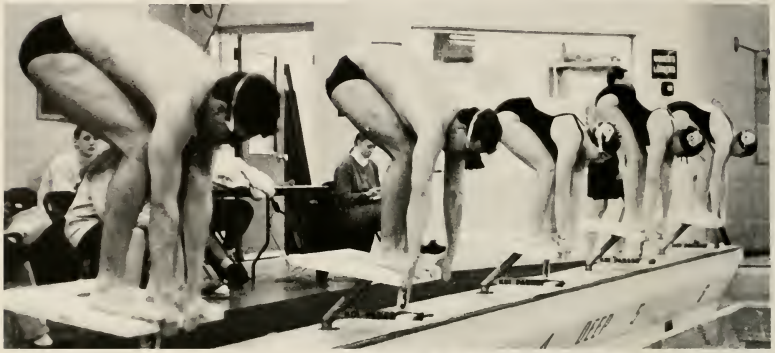
Making a Big Splash



The men's swim team really made a big splash this season, finishing in fourth place at the MAC championships and ending their season with a record of 17 wins and 0 losses. The 100-42 victory over Lycoming saw the men's team break the Etown swimming win record set by the 1971 team. Captains Brian Renninger, Steve Fowler and Mike Schlotterbeck consistently brought victory to the team by winning their individual races and led the team to a very successful season. Etown had not only individual victories, but also team victories. In a challenging meet against Widener, the relay team captured a win with a season best time .

The women's team also performed impressively in 1993 by capturing tenth place in the team standings at the MAC championships and by contributing to the 19 Etown medals won there. With a winning record of 10 wins and 8 losses, the women fell one victory short of tying the school's top record. Captains Julie Borst, Karyn Suffredini and Kelly Donovan provided experience and support to the rest of the team.

1993 saw both teams finish higher than ever before in the MAC championships. Both teams battled tough opponents and kept their heads above water to blaze impressive winning records. Etown swimming has made quite a name for itself in 1993 and expects to keep performing well in the future.

Can't Match This

With the arrival of spring came the appearance of the Elizabethtown College women's tennis team out on the courts and, unfortunately, heavy spring showers. Despite long hours spent inside because of rain, the women's team ended the season with a record of 6 wins and 3 losses. With three seniors and three freshmen in the top seating, the tennis team had a good combination of "nice experience" and "new talent." Coach Bob Schott has high expectations for the 1994 season and with good reason. The team's only losses this season were close and to good teams. "We have a lot of experience for next year," said Coach Schott. "The move to the fall season should help, too." At the MAC tournament, the Lady Jays made a strong appearance: Captain Carla Shoemaker made it to quarterfinal play and Andrea Thornton made it to the third round of competition. Junior team member Michelle Artz remembers, "It wasn't a dream season--the rain really took away from practice. But we were a team and I think everybody walked away with something."

Batting a Thousand

The 1993 Elizabethtown College baseball team had a specatacular season. There was no stopping these men. The team's record of 24 wins and 5 losses took them to the MAC playoffs where they beat both FDU-Madison and Johns Hopkins University. They then took the MAC Northwest Division title and went on to the NCAA playoffs. The season lasted into the month of May.

With such a long season, the team needed unbelievable endurance, strength and ability, and the team proved they were up to the test. The team maintained a .327 batting average. Several pitchers threw six shut-outs throughout the season and senior captain Chris Grubb pitched three of the six. With all of this outstanding talent, the team is sure to have more successful years ahead of them.

Whether it was pitching, batting, fielding or base running, Etown always impressed the crowd.

Rounding The Bases

The 1993 softball season was a tough one for the Lady Jays. In the first half of the season, the team lost seven of their twelve. But the second half of the season proves that these ladies don't give up. Out of eleven late-season games, the team lost only one, but this comeback did not come soon enough to land the team a spot in the MAC playoffs. With a final record of 15 wins and 8 losses, the team showed that they are fighters, and they fight to win.

Tri-captains Angie Baumer, Kim Matlack, and Kim Hampson led the fight all the way. They and the rest of the team kept their spirits up through the rocky start and came out winners. The team's batting average was an impressive .291, and both starting pitchers had several shut-outs each. Coach Pam Drazkowski said that the team learned from their early mistakes and turned their weak points into strong points. With all of its ups and downs, the 1993 season was certainly a memorable one.

Right on Par

Although the golf team got off to a very late start this season, they seemed to make up for lost time. They played in several invitationals and fared pretty well. In their Susquehanna Invitational, they got eighth place out of fifteen. Captain Joe Shull commented that "it was our best showing all year. It gave us the encouragement that we needed for MACs."

During the 1993 season, the team's momentum was slow and it took them a while to gain enthusiasm, but after they started getting into the groove of a regular season, they played much better. Coach Snavely commented, "Finally we're starting to get some confidence in ourselves and perform like we should." Snavely looks forward to the 1994 season in hopes that the younger players have gained confidence and experience from the 1993 season.

Intramural Action

Aside from the more demanding and rigorous varsity sports at Etown, students have the opportunity to play sports with a little less pressure and a little less organization. The intramural teams are run by the team members and provide a good study break for both participants and spectators. The various teams included flag football, volleyball, basketball, soccer and softball.

CORNERSTONES

Cornerstones are what hold a foundation together. The faculty and staff at Elizabethtown College are just that...cornerstones.

We could not have a college without them to teach and guide the students as well as be open enough to learn from them too.

Many faculty and staff have come forth this year in support of student concerns which in turn has led to closer relations between some.

The 1993 faculty section of the yearbook was done a little different this year in an attempt to discard the boring mug shots and show more interaction between the faculty and students.

Together the students, faculty and staff make Etown what it is today. Although most students move on after several years, many professors and administrators remain part of Etown as the Cornerstones.

ROLLINGSTONES

For Freshmen, Sophomores and Juniors, rolling along with the changes became a familiar feeling. Whether they were differences in the campus, their personal lives or even the world around them, underclassmen learned to deal with, if not wecome change.

Freshmen probably faced the biggest change of all by entering the college scene while sophomore and juniors adapted to their developing campus community. However, by facing these changes together, the underclassmen were definitely united as the Rolling Stones.

BRINSER

Brinser, Etown's only all male residence hall, is full of spice and life. What do you expect when you put 137 males together in close living quarters. The residence hall has calmed down some since Tina Hill became head resident, but working together, they have made Brinser a truly unique place to live.

FOUNDERS

The 300+ men and women of Founders Residence Hall had an interesting year. The residents were treated by Founders RLC to a Mexican dinner in the main lounge. Many floors became very close because of the social programming efforts done by their RAs; brunches and hall dinners were well attended. The residents were finally given their lounge back when the weekend dances were moved to the new BSC addition; new furnishing made the Founders lounge look like a lounge again. The substance free floor was a new addition this year, and the members made plans to promote living on their floor for following years. The rest of the building developed a sense of community that should continue in the coming years.

MYER

The Residence Life Staff in Myer and Preservation worked hard to establish a sense of real community in their residence halls. The residents participated in activities like Pumpkin Pals and Secret Santas. All the halls participated in the campus-wide Christmas Decorating Contest. A building-wide relaxation program was held as a stress reliever. The Residence Life Council sponsored a "pumpkin-gram" fundraiser at Halloween and met throughout the year with members of Residence Life. Professors and students alike attended a "Thursday at 4:00" gathering in the Presidential Lounge during the first semester to enjoy cake and socializing. In the spring, Myer women were involved in many intellectual, cultural, and occupational programs. Overall, it was a very good year for these residents.

OBER

Ober is one of two co-ed residence halls and is conveniently and centrally located on campus. On each floor, there are two wings, one for women and one for men, which are connected by a center lobby. The lobby is the place where residents come to relax, battle each other in pool or ping pong, or just watch television. Each hall also has its own lounge for studying or relaxing with friends. Every two weeks, RAs meet with the members of their hall to discuss upcoming events.

ROYER

Walking through the center doors of Royer this year and turning toward the North end, attention was directed to a large, colorful declaration; "We chose to live in Royer!" And why not? Despite a few challenges, (a broken heat sensor which kept setting the fire alarm off and a "slight" problem with tree roots in the pipes) it was a great year to live in Royer. There were various events throughout the year, such as a political forum, a demo on cooking easy, healthy snacks, various trips, and the one ever-popular "Screw Your Roommate" evening. Royer as a whole had a Christmas social and a volleyball tournament. It was definitely an exciting year to be a resident of Royer.

SCHLOSSER

Schlosser started out the year rebelling against its mold as a quiet building, with an open forum and a lively discussion concerning its noise level. The halls bonded through programs which included a trip to the New Jersey shore and a finals stress release workshop. In the spring, the building held a program entitled "One Peace at a Time" featuring various Schlosser residents sharing expressions of peace. Programs varied from nutrition to rape awareness. Schlosser residents enjoyed many Hall Council sponsored events including a TV night, a date rape program, an ice cream social and a game night. Throughout the year the women of Schlosser strived to construct their own sense of community within their halls and throughout the building.

A STEP AHEAD

The 1993 senior class has seen many changes throughout their years at Etown and their final year was no exception.

Throughout the last four years, the seniors have seen the addition of the High Library, the new BSC annex and the senior quads, the renovation of Zug, the tearing down of Rider and the strength of a united class.

The class of 1993, was the first to move into the senior townhouses which were built in response to the changing needs of upperclassmen.

Although the quads were a nice alternative, many seniors still preferred off campus housing and needless to say, were not afraid to voice their opinions and in turn were granted permission.

With the growth and maturity that come with being at college for several years it is no wonder that seniors are A Step Ahead of the Rest.

We have followed you with pride as you grew from a sweet little girl to a nervous freshman to a lovely young woman. Your alumni, mom, dad, aunt & uncle have enjoyed your college career as you kept up the "E-town" tradition." On graduation day Grandpa Barnes, a true E-town fan, would be so proud. May God bless you as you begin life with Barry and as an occupational therapist. Love, Mom, Dad, Deb, & Brian

CONGRATULATIONS AMI-JO

Wow - these four years flew by so quickly - and what a beautiful young woman you have become. How can I ever explain to you what I'm feeling in my heart as you graduate - I'm so very proud of you Kristie - of everything you have already accomplished, and what I know you will in the future. Whatever path you choose to take after graduation - I know it will be the right one - and you'll be the best therapist you can be.

I LOVE YOU.

P.S. We know that you will be equally successful in your future endeavors!

To Our Special Daughter Linda
Words cannot express how proud we are of all your hard work and accomplishments through the years. You have given your family so much joy and happiness. We wish you all the happiness and success in the future. Always remain the beautiful and caring person you are today. Our love will always be with you.

Love,
Mom, Dad, Jeff, Doug & Mike

Dear Tara,
YOU DID IT! It's hard to believe four years have gone by, another chapter in your life completed and this one with an OT degree. I've watched you grow from a partying freshman in sweats to a caring, competent professional in a skirt! I can't begin to tell you how proud I am that you worked hard and now have a degree you yourself can be proud of. Now, on to your future and the next chapter. Remember "Wind Beneath My WIngs"? This time you did it yourself. Just remember wherever your life takes you, whatever you do, I'm always here.

Love, Mom

Words cannot describe how proud we are of you.
Congratulations!!!
We love you.

Tami:
To a very special daughter. You have become a beautiful mature woman with character and strength that will guide you through your future. You have always set your goals high and your accomplishments have been many. We are very proud of you. Congratulations.
Love,
Mom and Dad, Missy and Ali

Wendy,
Congratulations on reaching your goal.

We love you and are very proud of you. But, more importantly--we really "like you". You have grown to be a terrific person.

Good luck with your career in writing.
Love,
Dad and Mom
P.S. AT&T thanks you for your support!

You are our pride and joy, Amy - the child who became a woman. We thought we could never love you more than the day you were born.. we were wrong. We love you more each day. And we are so very proud of you and your accomplishments. You are your own person. You are a leader. You are beautiful, loving, and you give of yourself and ask nothing in return. You are a woman with no prejudices, and we lovce you for that, too. Now you are going out into the world, and we want you to know you wiull always have our love and support. Knock'm dead!
Mom & Dad

Carla,

We are so proud that you have achieved your goal - to become an O.T. Thanks for working hard and not wasting our money, and most importantly for becoming the special person that you are.

Love ya lots,
Dad and Mom

The years have passed,
Where did they all go?
We've watched you blossom
From a bud to a rose.
May your future be bright
With pleasures untold,
For all the joy you've given us
We thank the good Lord.

All our love,
Mom, Dad & Jimmy

Congratulations, Kirk!

We recognize the dedication and hard work that helped you reach this goal. We're proud of you. Our best wishes for continued success at Penn!

Love,
Mom & Dad

Dearest Kim,
No matter how difficult the challenge, academically or athletically, you have attained your dream.
No matter how dark the day, you have always been the sunshine of our lives. We are truly blessed - a wonderful joyous child and now a woman who walks in grace and beauty.
Congratulations - you have worked hard and we are so very proud of you. The children that you reach through your teaching career will share your knowledge and your spirit.
From all your family, but especially mom and dad. We love you.

Dear Jennifer Walter,

From your first day of school to your last, we have been very proud of your academic accomplishments.

Congratulations!

Bill, These past years have gone by so quickly. It's hard to believe that you are now a college graduate. It has been a growing time for not only you, but also for your family. You've worked hard for this moment and it has paid off.

We wish you all of life's happiness & success. There are so many exciting challenges and wonderful opportunities just waiting for you, and you have so much to offer.

Our lives have truly been blessed having you as a son. When we look at you we re-live such special times, a precious life was entrusted to us. You are hope, you are peace, you are the future! CONGRATULATIONS!!

With Love Forever, MOM & DAD

Dear Beth,

So, now you're an E-town graduate; it seems like just yesterday we toured the campus, purchased a green T-shirt, and you decided to enroll. The past four years have seen FAF's, long hours of work, roommates, and a daughter who brightened a quiet home with her visits. She wasn't the same young lady we had sent to college.

We are so very proud of you Beth, and of your accomplishments at Elizabethtown. Let those efforts always be a reminder that you are able to able to attain your goals!

To the right: Students gather in front of the High Library for a peaceful protest against the spending policies of the administration at Etown.

Below: Etown students face dilemas every day of school--to go or not to go (to class), that is the question.

To the right: Demonstrators move from the library to the new BSC addition in hopes of being heard by the Board of Trustees.

Above and to the left: "Welcome to the Jay's Nest; can I take your order?"

To the left: Who says there are no men at Elizabethtown?

Below: We came. We saw. We partied. Welcome to the VW club.

Above: Nothing like fresh air to help you study. In Etown fresh can mean chocolate or manure, depending on which way the wind is blowinng.

To the right: Many students took the opportunity to speak at the Senior Worship Service.

To the right: Always a kid at heart!

Below and to the right: Jen, Rachana and Laura, relieved that graduation is over, pose for one final picture before they go off into the REAL world.

Party time!
